On December 15, 2022, the terms of the Class A-5B Notes (the “Notes”) issued by SLM Student Loan Trust 2003-7 will be reset from their current terms in a remarketing of those Notes, in accordance with the terms of their indenture and remarketing agreement.

Pursuant to the remarketing process, the new spread on the Notes was required to be determined by no later than 3:00 P.M., New York City time, December 12, 2022. However, sufficient committed purchasers were not obtained for all of the tendered Notes. As a result, a failed remarketing has been declared. Consequently, all existing Class A-5B noteholders will be required to retain their Notes on the Current Reset Date. The interest rate for the Notes will be reset to the failed remarketing rate, which is equal to three-month EURIBOR plus 0.55% per annum and the reset period will be three months. As such, the next reset date will be March 15, 2023.

In order for an investor to exercise rights with respect to such investor’s Notes or to determine the new terms of the remarketed Notes, such investor must contact the following remarketing agents:
