

Jaguar Land Rover Materiality Assessment

As part of our journey to becoming a more sustainable business, we are undertaking a materiality assessment and would like your help. A materiality assessment is a process to identify the most important issues for a company to address as part of its approach to sustainability.

We are engaging with our main stakeholders to understand which sustainability issues mean the most to you. We would appreciate you taking 5-10 minutes out of your day to complete our survey.

This survey asks you to rate each sustainability topic on its impact and likelihood. If you have any commentary to add to your answers, please do so in the allocated space.

Our next step is to analyse all of the survey data and develop a ranked list of material issues that will shape our approach to sustainability.

The survey will be open until Friday 16th December. Please find the survey here:
